

should be the happiest of all his life, only one week since they buried her mother, I will enclose the clipping from the evening paper.

-Ora wishes me to ask you to take a quarter of a dollar of your money and buy candy and put in a box and present it to the little boy that sent the present to H. for him. he gave her the money to do it and she forgot all about it before you went. and she doesn't want H. to know of it so you make it right with the boy and she will make it right with you.

Lucy and I have just been to the hen house. I have a very